

Privacy policy

Privacy policy of www.continent.co.pl

1. Personal data collection

The aim of the privacy policy is to inform our customers how, why and what for we may collect their personal identification data.

If such a collection takes place it is needed for running our standard business activities.

It must be remembered that personal identification data may be collected by us only upon customer's prior consent of passing us their personal information.

The personal data types that may be collected by us are: company name, name, surname, email address, postal address, phone number and the like which are required e.g. for generating invoices, payments, transaction data etc. They are collected by us when a customer decides to establish business cooperation with us. The data gathered up in the above described ways are stored for a period of time not longer than we are obliged by legal and regulatory obligations to do so. After that period they are stored in an archives forms or if unnecessary they are removed.

We do not reveal the collected data to the third parties except to the extent necessary for transaction / business processing.

It may happen that we may be obliged to share your data with governmental taxes or criminal investigations on account of legal obligations.

Any employees who are not directly involved in handling your data have no access to them, however, those who handle your data have been instructed how confidentially they must act not to reveal them to third parties.

2. Safety

We have taken complex, technical and organizational precautions in order to protect your data from an unauthorized access, inappropriate use, loss or from other external disturbances. Therefore, we constantly control our precautions and adapt them to our current knowledge.

3. Your rights regarding your personal data

You have the right to be informed in a precise and clear way how your data are processed and stored.

You have the right to ask us about how your data are stored or processed and you have the right to access your data.

You also have the right to correct, update your data or to have them removed except for those that cannot be removed by us due to legal requirements / regulations or other reasons established by the law.

You also have the right to withdraw your consent of processing your data provided that such processing is based only upon your consent.

You have the right to transfer your data.

You can also define how your data should be handled in case of your death.

Contact details where you can apply for your personal data:

www.continent.co.pl

Waszyngtona street 42

42-202 Czestochowa

Poland

continent@onet.eu